NEWSWEEKLY
The models' grand finale

By LORI GRIFFITH
Special to The Courier Newsweekly

Harbourside Place, at U.S. 1 and Indiantown Road in Jupiter, recently hosted a fashion show honoring women of all generations.

You had to be there!
The models, all decked out, were mostly comprised of mothers, stepmothers, daughters and other close women friends and co-workers.

THE SIGHTS!

It was a night all about women and their fashions. Models wore designs provided by Chico's and White House/Black Market. Chico's then donated 10 percent of sales that day to Hannah's Home of South Florida, which provides free services for at risk, single pregnant mothers. So, for a list of upcoming events at Harbourside Place, visit its Facebook page or www.harboursideplace.com.
